Your generous donations help to provide the following opportunities for Summer Music Clinic students:

- Student Scholarships for attendance – the cost of one student is between $790 to $1,220
- Nationally recognized music educators coming to SMC to teach
- Diversification and expansion of curriculum
- Work to keep programmatic costs sustainable to help student attendance

"As a music educator and 32-year veteran of Summer Music Clinic, I have firsthand experience and have seen the arts and SMC transform and empower lives and voices of our youth. Students, faculty, and staff find an energy, acceptance, and encouragement for their creative lives to connect their artistic ambitions with their future lives in every possible way. SMC is also where many music educators, myself included, find their path. We want to give back because someone gave to us." – Carrie Backman
